Preserve Capital: Through the stop-loss mechanisms that are set at the beginning of the trading, the investors can cut the losses at the level they have decided and this will help them to preserve the capital during the downturns, thus, they will not suffer a catastrophic loss and they will be able to recover fast when the market conditions are better.

Summarized by © lakhasly.com