In order to complete this task, a CNN and an RNN are combined in the neural network architecture. The proposed system is as follows: o Our first option is the graphical user interface (GUI). The user engages with the system at this point.