

a modern disease of adaptation caused by an inability to cope with new computer technologies in a healthy manner on the basis of this definition, a concept model for understanding technostress was developed by Ragu–Nathan et. al. they altered 5 factors that create stress from the use of ICT The 5 indicators are techn overload, techno–insecurity, techno–invasion, techno–uncertainty & techno–complexity