

Your age. If a parent or sibling was diagnosed with osteoporosis or had broken bones from a minor injury, you are more likely to develop osteoporosis. After menopause, the body makes less estrogen. Having gone through menopause