

The creation of an intelligent MRI-based model for brain tumor classification is the main objective of this work. In this chapter, the proposed method is presented and explained in detail