

In a small village there lived a boy named Adam. Luna had bright eyes that sparkled like stars, and he continued to search. Where residents have not seen the sun for a long time due to black clouds above the sky. He believed that there was a light out there somewhere, and his loyal friend, a little white cat named Luna, accompanied him on his journey. Adam and Luna were heroes who brought light into people's lives. They returned to their village amidst great joy
