

in this writing I will give my opinion in “water is not important for people,animals or plants” I strongly disagree with that ,because I have my reasons. First for the human body, the human body and brain is need the water to improve the health . Second, the animals they can’t live without water so they will not give us what we need in our life . In addition they will died . Third, the plant will dry then it will died also but some plants will live with a little water in some time. Finally no one can live without water every thing will be dry .So I will write some advice to save the water like, use the water at the level we want , make a hole for blant for water. This is all about my writing Thank you
