

Nail polish can be traced back to around 3,000 B.C.E. in both China and Egypt. Chinese nail polish was a mixture of beeswax, gelatin, egg whites, and a gum from a special tree