

The use of medically assisted reproduction treatments before conception was reported in 5.2%
(n=512,943) of the sample