

My name's Omar, and I am a student with a strong interest in architectural history and culture. During my studies, I completed several projects in architectural design and history, and I participated in a heritage conservation workshop where I documented historic buildings and contributed to renovation reports