'Security is extremely important for the state, either internal or external.