This section or chapter discusses the related work in relation to appling machine learning techniques for text classification , focusing on natural language input data.After stop word removal, a feature selection process is conducted to select relevant and effective features for improved news classification.

lakhasly.com © تم تلخيص النص بواسطة موقع لخصلي