

Youth hostels, originating in 1909, are an economic solution that provides affordable accommodation and support for young people from around the world. Saudi Arabia boasts over twenty hostels distributed throughout the country, offering services comparable to hotels and tourist facilities, but at a lower cost. These hostels cater to young people's needs with sleeping rooms, sports fields, dining areas, and more. They are designed to make travel accessible and convenient for youth by providing essential amenities at budget-friendly prices.
