

The West Collapses Rome declined after Constantines death its enemies took advantage of its weakness and caused it to collapse The Huns Arrive Nomads from the plains of Central Eurasia known to the roman as huns triggered along northern borders. The Romans defeated that invasion at the battle of Chalons. Germans fled a head of them into Roman lands