

my project addresses the problem of fragility of cardboard boxes manufactured in a local factory in Jordan. The study emphasizes the importance of proactive quality management approaches in enhancing manufacturing processes and ensuring product solidity