

The visual communication designer works on the interpretation, organization, and visual presentation of messages. Publication designers organize not only typography but also words