

Sexual Assault Sexual assault is a serious form of interpersonal victimization, which violates the core of self in ways that are probably only second to murder. The person's subjective stress is intense and long-lasting.