Going green" refers to adopting practices and behaviors that are environmentally friendly and sustainable. It involves making conscious choices to reduce waste, conserve resources, and minimize harm to the planet. Common aspects of going