

With this potential, it is incumbent on NCI, as the world's largest supporter of cancer research, to.2
consider and support the development of AI/ML technologies.NCI's role in AI research: current activities Given these successes, it is clear that AI technologies hold immense promise to further improve the care
.of people with cancer and to facilitate cancer research