

Communication Communicate it is an important thing in our life. There are many ways to communicate the others. Such as, chatting with friends on the phone or in social media programs. Also, we can send them a mobile message. Many reasons make people have to communicate with others. First, it is the human nature. Second, we have many needs Like, asking about our friends, inviting them to our occasions by sending them massager or even asking them about home works or others life matters. .Actually communication is so important