

assignments. In other words: AI-generated content should only supplement your own work, not replace it. You are responsible for ensuring that AI-generated content does not constitute plagiarism or violate the college's academic integrity policies. These tools can help you generate ideas, improve language accuracy, and engage with reading materials more effectively. However, it is vital to approach these tools with ethical considerations in mind.