

hours. During an external examination, the shape of the veterinary surveillance marks is established, the presence of a drying crust, breakdowns of the fascia and muscles, stickiness and humidity, contamination, surface color, mold, etc. The consistency of fat and bone marrow is established by crushing between the fingers<sup>3.1</sup>.