

We then identify the enabling technologies for the introduced 6G services and outline a comprehensive .research agenda that leverages those technologies