

Natural resources are resources that are down from nature and used with few modifications the sustainable development goals and other interaction development agendas frequently force on creating move sustainable resources, oxidation with some scholar's end researched focused on creating .economic models such as circular economy that rely less on resource extraction