

By securing their land rights and involving them in conservation efforts, we can protect large.3 ##### areas of forests while preserving local livelihoods and traditions.Supporting Indigenous and Local .Communities Indigenous and local communities are often the best stewards of forests