

RAID is short for (having more than one for safety or backup purposes) organized row of independent disks.(at first/before other things happened), the term RAID was defined as (having more than one for safety or backup purposes) organized row of inexpensive disks, but now it usually refers to a (having more than one for safety or backup purposes) organized row of independent disks