

To sum up, parents should monitor or lead their children's social media accounts in order to safeguard their wellbeing and teach them proper internet usage habits