

Some people are investing in and developing space tourism technology, believing that space tourism will
.be the next big thing