

In 2005, the government passed a law, under the Council of Cooperative Health Insurance Act, requiring all employers to medically insure their expatriate employees. In 2015, the Council of Cooperative Health Insurance Act mandated that treatments up to US$26 664 shall be covered.¹⁰ Roughly 69% of the population is covered by public insurance or services, whereas the remaining 31% have private insurance plans.