

A pattern is essentially an arrangement. It is characterized by the order of the elements of which it is“ made, rather than by the intrinsic nature of these elements”, N. Wiener