

Water-poor communities cannot protect themselves from illnesses like giardia, and treatment for this illness is cost for a family living in poverty. For these reasons, Lifewater's programs focus on long-term prevention.