

Religious preaching and guidance is very important to protect society from the problem of domestic-5 violence because the teachings of the Islamic religion stipulate compassion and family cohesion.6-Conducting research and studies on this phenomenon and taking new variables such as environment, self-esteem and self-control