accountability. This involves defining the roles and duties of the directors and establishing an adequate monitoring process. The law also requires larger companies to have their annual financial statements .independently audited	,