

There were no restrictions on the mobility of people in the late of 19th century across national boundaries during the periods 1870 & 1914, 50 million people left Europe and 2/3 go to US and the other 1/3 to Canada, Australia, New Zealand