

Labor law is the set of legal rules governing the relationship between employer and worker, covering .management and enforcement.The UAE enacted its first federal labor law in 1980