

The visual representation of the materials in figure 3, showed the brownish colours of the prepared hydrochars at 250oC compared to the starting green leaves