

men and women take birth in this world and then, having performed their roles through various stages,
.meet death