This module is a logical continuation of the fundamental concepts covered in the Web Technology 1 module during the 3rd year. It provides the basic notions to understand the principles of distributed .applications over the Internet