

The world is not on track to achieve the goal of limiting global warming to 1.5 degrees Celsius, and greenhouse gas emissions are at record levels, according to a recent report from the United Nations. The report's findings underscore the urgent need for immediate and drastic action to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and mitigate the impacts of climate change.