

The poet continues to describe the details of the woman's face. The woman's radiant smile and the brightness of her face tell of her favourable and pleasant past life