

I don't symbolize with her because In my opinion, human nature always wants the best in everything among everyone, and this is normal, but she made a mistake because she was not satisfied with her reality and the blessings that she had. She also cared about their opinion of her and their view of her external appearance and believing their external appearance, which is often fake for the sake of appearances, as happened with her friend's necklace. Also, she did not try to improve her life and her husband's financial life to reach the financial situation she wanted
