

The smart system can issue alerts to patients regarding medication times and specific doses, enhancing treatment compliance and mitigating forgetfulness in taking medications