

Protozoa are single celled organisms.They live in a wide variety of moist habitats including fresh water, marine environments and the soil.Some are parasitic, which means they live in other plants and animals .including humans, where they cause disease