Life now requires working on the computer most of the time.Anti- virus software to detect malicious software such as computer viruses, computer worms and trojan horses in order to prevent them from harming the computer or stealing personal data by removing or repairing them.