

Lamis's week is structured to accommodate her passion for both math and programming. Mondays and Thursdays start with an 8:30 AM math lecture followed by a programming class at 9:55 AM. Tuesdays involve a computer lab lecture from 10:25 AM where she puts her programming knowledge into practice. Lamis finds programming particularly engaging, while the math lectures enhance her analytical and problem-solving skills, contributing to her overall academic growth.