

The SM contains a canonical summary of all discoveries on the scale of elementary particles. The first generation contains the electron e and the electron neutrino ν_e . It consists of 12 elementary particles that are grouped into 3 generations, and 4 vector bosons. Each generation includes one pair that consists of one lepton and the neutrino.