

Hematological investigation revealed that groups at pre- and posttreatment stages were significantly lower than those in the control group. A mild reduction was reported after iron therapy. The mean of total iron binding capacity (TIBC) in study groups was significantly higher than that in the control group. These hematological indices were elevated after iron therapy compared with the pretreatment group.