

I learned how to assess the creditworthiness of individuals • I learned the bank's policies for granting • loans and the conditions required to obtain a loan (interest rate and repayment period) • I wrote many loan files for clients and communicated with clients personally to complete their data in the loan files • I helped employees in delivering credit cards to clients and increasing their awareness and understanding of this product