

The Codex General Principles of Food Hygiene provides comprehensive guidance on pest control under Section 11.2, titled “Pest Control Systems.” This section emphasizes the importance of preventing pest infestations to ensure food safety and outlines several key practices