

You should choose your friends carefully because friends can affect your thoughts and actions. In conclusion, choose friends who are kind and honest